

Dear CIPEG-members, dear colleagues and friends,

We are pleased to invite you to attend our next annual meeting

CIPEG Annual meeting in Chicago, hosted by The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago

Tuesday, September 5th – Friday, September 8th 2017

Theme

The role of Curators in Museum Research and Exhibits: Tradition, Change, and Looking to the Future

Venue:

The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago
1155 E 58th St., Chicago, IL 60637

Call for papers

Papers related to the conference theme: The role of Curators in Museum Research and Exhibits: Tradition, Change, and Looking to the Future are now invited. Many museums and collections face the restructuring of organizational processes within their collections and museums. The scholarly background of curators seems less important and many curators are expected to take over other tasks than traditional collections management and exhibition planning. Increasing social media leads to regularly block entries or tweets, which are more and more demanded to communicate with the audience. These and others topic will be addressed around the theme of curator's role.

As it is the CIPEG tradition, there is also an Open Forum for papers related to general museums work in Egyptian and Sudan Archaeological collections.

If you wish to present a paper, please send the title and an abstract (in English) of no more than 300 words to Emily Teeter, and cc. to Tine Bagh. Abstracts should be submitted as Word files and include your name, title, institutional affiliation (if appropriate) and full contact details.

The deadline for receiving abstracts is Tuesday July 1, 2017

If you wish to attend the annual meeting without presenting a paper, please also inform us before Tuesday 1 July 2017. A registration form for the conference is attached below.
